Woonsocket Patriot:

Our Neighbors.

FRANKLIN.

THE FLOOD.—Saturday showed the inconvenience of getting along without railroads. The chief damage by the rain and snow of last week in this vicinity was near Nason's crossing and at Unionville. No trains were run on the New York and New England road and the Providence extension on account of washouts at various points. The Milford road was clear. The lower end of Cottage and East streets was flooded and the mills on the west side of the railroad track so that no work could be carried on. Union street between Cottage and the railroad was impassable. The railroad between Nason's crossing and Mine brook was partially undermined in several places. At Unionville F. B. Ray's mill was flooded and two or three small shops floated into the stream, Beyond the stone mill the street was made impassable and the underpinning of one house partially undermined. In various parts of the town cellars were filled with water from two to four feet deep. The highways were badly washed in places and several small bridges carried off. No mails went out or were received at the post office Saturday and the only newspaper received at Putman's was the Woonsocket Reporter. Sunday postmaster Ingalls went to Norwood and got Saturday's eastern mail. Monday trains were running, but not on regular time.

The Franklin Sentinel
October 1, 1886

Suicide at South Franklin.

Tuesday afternoon Edward Moses of South Franklin was discovered hanging in the barn of Deacon Willard C. Whiting. Life was extinct when the discovery was made. Moses was a single man 27 years of age and living at Mr. Whiting's. No reason can be assigned for the act other except despondency. His father committed suicide in the same way some years ago and at that time Mr. Whiting was appointed guardian of Edward. The medical examiner was notified and an inquest being unnecessary the body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker McPherson. The funeral occurred Thursday, and the remains were taken to Pawtucket, where the mother of the young man is buried. Both Mr. and Mrs. Whiting are in feeble health and depended considerably upon young Moses. Some people believe that Moses feared that the death of Mr. or Mrs. Whiting would throw him out of a home, and brooding over the idea led to his rash act.
